Foundation - Topic Challenge Week 2

Dear Parents/Carers,

Thank you for all of your uploads to Tapestry last week, it was fantastic to see all of your wonderful home learning.

This week, as Spring has definitely sprung we would like you to think about plants and growing. You might like to: plant a cress head; think about the vegetables you like to eat and whether you would be able to grow your own in your garden; research about what flowers help bees and plant some seeds to make a wildflower garden; make a fact file about your favourite flower, tree or plant; or create a poster about the life cycle of a plant. Have fun gardening and we look forward to seeing what you get up to on Tapestry!

We have a song of the week for you about growing called The Green Grass Grows All Around: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=sc-Pbkdxswl&t=18s>

Eric Carle, the author and illustrator we have been learning about recently has also written a wonderful book about growing, called the Tiny Seed, you can listen to the story here (you might then like to make a story map or fold out book of the story):

NB: Please continue with your dinosaur projects if you have not yet completed them and upload your learning as a separate observation to Tapestry.

Here are a few other resources that we recommend you take a look at:

Oxford Owl read write inc parents' guide:

Auntie Mabel has some great adventures looking at growing:

She looks at potatoes: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=fuyyXLLIsvc>

Carrots: https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=G6Zk_B8_Ubl

and bulbs: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=op86kAE0Nsw>

There are lots of science activities available at:
